WHERE ARE THE STARS OF YESTERYEAR?

Motion picture fans of a few years back who have often wondered as to the present whereabouts of their former favorites will find them popping up in important roles of talking pictures these days.

In "The Black Watch," all-talking Fox Movietone production, directed by John Ford, a count of noses in the scenes participated in by the officers of the famous "Black Watch," the nickname of the 42nd Highlanders, will reveal Richard Travers at one time very popular young lead; Arthur Metcalfe, who has starred in a half hundred productions; Arthur Clayton, remembered for his months of success in the stage play, "White Cargo" Tom London, former western star; Pat Somerset, famed for his stage successes here and abroad and Frank Baker, former screen lead.

As "Captain Donald Gordon King," Victor McLaglen is star of the picture with Myrna Loy the feminine lead. The picture is now at the Capitol Theatre.

John Stone adapted the story and the dialog is by James K. McGuinness, who also supervised.

Board of Trade Meeting Well Attended

A well attended and very beneficial Board of Trade Meeting and Luncheon was held at the Club Cafe on Wednesday Dec. 4th 1929.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted by those present, correspondence was read and disposed of and a motion carried to continue the monthly luncheons and meetings.

Pres. T. O. King who was in charge then introduced Mr. W. Porter Pres. of the Southern Alberta Motor Association who gave a splendid talk to those present on the aims of the A.M.A., pointing out the value of membership to the individual and to the Association. He spent considerable time in pointing out what had been already accomplished by the Provincial A. M. A., and said that if the membership were 18,000 or 20,000 instead of 9,000 that the power and ability of the Association would be greatly increased. The big thing now was to press and continue pressing for a trans Canada highway, following which the Association would turn its attention to getting gravelled roads into every community. The A.M.A. was working to the end of having every dollar of gasoline tax and auto license put back on the roads.

W. M. Day Secretary spoke briefly on these lines and spoke of the work being done to mark the roads.

Pres. T. O. King thanked Messrs. Porter and Day on behalf of the Board for their presence and the talks they had made, and also spoke of the progress we were making and the opportunities we had. He made a plea for better co-operation and greater interest in the Board of Trade and its activities.

It was decided upon motion that Wm. Meeks be the Board of Trade delegate to the A.M.A. Convention at Lethbridge on Friday night.

W. D. Mendenhall asked the co-operation of the Board of Trade in the organization and activities of a Flying Club here, and stated that the young men of the town were very desirous of studying aviation. The Board pledged its support and W. D. Mendenhall, P. R. Taylor and Geo. Brewerton were named as a committee from the Board of Trade to meet with the Council regarding a landing field.

Some discussion was had regarding the proposed gravelled highway but little was accomplished other than to ask the Roads Committee to continue their efforts in this respect.

A letter is to be sent to the Canadian Utilities asking that an endeavor be made to clear up the interference with radio reception. If this is not successful then the matter will be taken up with higher officials.

The G. W. V. A. have decided to build a memorial here and on their behalf, W. D. Mendenhall asked for financial support from the Board of Trade. The matter was left open.

W. C. Stone spoke briefly regarding a hotel, and asked the Board to keep this need in mind.

Meeting adjourned at 3:35 p.m.

Those present were: T. O. King, C. O. Asplund, Wm. Meeks, L. D. King, W. D. Mendenhall, C. G. Watson, J. W. Evans, F. A. Lind, R. A. VanOrman, T. G. Wood, Ernest Bennion, Margrath, F. R. Taylor, S. I. May, C. W. Lamb, Geo. Brewerton, W. C. Stone, O. S. Longman, and Messrs. Porter and Day of the A. M. A. Lethbridge.

M. I. A. Plays At Capitol

The first three nights of this week witnessed the presentation of the Three One-act Plays of the First Ward Mutual at the Capitol Theatre, in connection with a complete change of picture each night.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Brewerton, the genial Capitol Manager, these plays were presented to large and appreciative audiences each night and were all very successful. The new picture each night made a full evening of entertainment. Tickets were sold at $1.00 for the three nights or 35c for a big double program and needless to say they sold good.

The one-act plays were—"Mix Well and Stir," directed by Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Asplund, "Soul Mates" in charge of Mr. and Mrs. A. Zabriske, and "A Bargain's a Bargain," coached by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Keith. The pictures were "The Girl in the Glass Cage," "Love and the Devil," and "Prisoners."

On Friday afternoon these plays were all presented again for judging a full report of which will be given next week.

ONLY ONE MOTHER

You have only one mother, my boy
Whose heart you can gladden with joy
Oh, cause it to ache
Till ready to break,
So cherish that mother, my boy.

You have only one mother who will
Stick to you through good and ill,
And love you although
The world is your foe,
So care for that love ever still.

You have only one mother to miss
When she has departed from this
So love and revere
That mother when here—
Sometime you won't know her dear kiss

You have only one mother just now,
Remember that always, my son;
None can or will do
What she has for you;
What have you for her ever done?

GRAVEL YOUR ROAD

Mayor Cope set a splendid example for other business houses when he had gravel hauled in front of the Raymond Pharmacy to meet up with that placed on the street by the town.

It is hoped that our other progressive business houses will follow the example as it would help greatly toward a clean Main Street and would make the gravelled centre of the street look a great deal longer.

ALL-TALKING "BLACK WATCH" JOHN FORD'S 27th FOX FILM CLAIMED HIS BEST

John Ford, Fox Films director has produced for that organization and the experts at the studio incline to the belief that his supreme achievement will be his new all-talking production "The Black Watch," all-dialog Fox Movietone production.

In "The Black Watch," this week's features at the Capitol Victor McLaglen is starred and Myrna Loy plays the role of "Yasaman," a most exotic leader of men in India, obsessed with a desire to rule that domain.

"Black Watch" will be Ford's second contribution to the sound screen, for it is entirely dialog as was his prior effort, "Napoleon's Barber."

Among the quite distinctive successes Ford has given to the screen may be numbered "Four Sons," "The Iron Horse," "Kentucky Pride," "Hangman's House," and "Strong Boy."

MAKE BEET INDUSTRY PERMANENT

One of the questions in the minds of sugar factory officials these days when the decision to establish a factory on the Lethbridge Northern is under review is: How permanent is the industry here in Southern Alberta? Is it a flash in the pan, or will it continue to grow and expand? If it is permanent then we are justified in spending a lot of money to establish it; if it is not permanent, if the farmers fall after a few years to supply the raw materials to keep the factories going, then we would be foolish to sink more money in the proposition.

We might as well be "hard-boiled" when considering this question, for it will never hurt to look the facts squarely in the face.

The beet sugar industry will succeed just so long as we can make a profit from it—the farmers must make a profit out of growing beets and the company must make a profit out of manufacturing them into sugar and selling the product.

Farmers will make a profit out of beet growing so long as the price received for the product is fair, so long as the tonnage per acre is over the bare production cost, and so long as the necessary labor can be found. The fact that beets will clean the land preparing it for other crops to follow and that the by-products can be used profitably in feeding livestock, are additional arguments in favor of beet growing. But the beets themselves must yield a profit before the farmer will establish them as a permanent crop on his land. So far we have done very well. Tonnages are increasing, and the labor supply has been pretty well taken care of. In this latter connection, however, if we are to make beet growing permanent, growers should go farther than we have done here. Give a family of beet workers a hectare and an acre or two of land for a garden, where they can keep a cow, a couple of hogs and some chickens, and they will be able to live comfortably and cheaply, saving their money so that they may become land owners themselves. Nothing will establish permanency in the beet industry more quickly here than the opportunity for development for which factory officials are waiting. Beet labor is a knotty problem but it need not be a serious one if we attack it this way. You will never see beet workers on the bread line in winter if we handle the housing problem as we should.

Right now, when the Lethbridge Northern factory is a main topic of discussion, we should not overlook beet workers' houses as a means of establishing the industry on a permanent basis. Lethbridge Herald.

A. A. A. ANNUAL MEETING HELD

One of the best attended and most enthusiastic Annual A.A.A. meeting ever held in Raymond was held in the High School Monday evening when about 40 were present to hear the report of the year's activities and to elect officers for the ensuing year.

Pres. T. Geo. Wood took charge of the meeting and presented the President's report which touched upon all branches of sport and showed improvement and progress in every line. The finances of the Association were on the improve and nearly every thing undertaken during the year had paid its way. The financial report presented by Mr. Solon Low, was not as detailed as might have been, due to a change of Secretary's during the year and the misplacing of some information. However the report was comprehensive and satisfactory to the meeting, and after some discussion and questions regarding these matters the reports were accepted and a hearty vote of thanks given the retiring officials for their unceasing and very excellent work in the interest of amateur sport in Raymond.

The next item was the election of officers for the coming year.

The election of a President was first and Chas. E. Fawcett, was the unanimous choice of the meeting he being elected by acclamation.

There was some discussion here about the other officers of the Association and the Constitution was read and then the election proceeded with.

T. Geo. Wood was elected Vice President and Reed Kirkham, Sec-Treas. for the coming year.

The members of the Executive are as follows: Paul Dahl, M. Rayo, Wolf, Rosal Humphreys and Reg.

Choper. It was left with these men to appoint Managers for the various branches of sport as the seasons arrive for each.

The meeting was then thrown open for discussion and the sense of the meeting was as follows:—

That the Union Jacks team be re-organized and play Senior Basketball. The question of entering an Intermediate team was left for the Executive to decide. A High School team, Junior team and a team from the A.C. are already entered.

Volleyball, Boxing and Wrestling, Hockey, Curling and Ice Sports were all desired and efforts will be made to carry these on.

The question of using the Opera House for Basketball and Gym classes was discussed and left with the Executive to decide.

The meeting adjourned at 11 p.m.

A FLOATING MASTERPIECE

Five famous British artists are contributing to the decorative scheme of the new Canadian Pacific 4060-ton liner "Empress of Britain" now being built on the Clyde. Frank Brangwyn, R.A., is designing the dining saloon; Sir John Lavery, R.A., the Ball Room; Edmund Dulac, the Smoking Room; W. Heath Robinson, the Cocktail Bar; and Sir Charles Allom, the First Class Lounge. The "Empress of Britain" will be one of the world's largest ships and will ply the St. Lawrence River route between Southampton and Quebec. She will be the largest ship between Europe and Canada. Her speed is still a mystery but will probably be around 23 knots, enabling her to make the trip in five days. She is due to be launched early next summer and will be in service in 1931. ELECTIONS ARE COMING Elections for Town Council, Municipality and School Board are not far off. Nomination Day is about six weeks away, and probably too far distant to think very hard about. There will also be a ratepayers meeting held to discuss the doings of the officials during the past year when we will have a chance to form our own opinions of the present administration.

It is our opinion that now is the time to begin to cast about and see whom we shall have for our officials during the coming year. Usually we leave it to the last minute and then to and behold, we make a mad dash and nominate the first one who will accept with very little thought as to ability and qualifications.

This is the time to consider the policies of our present School Board, Town and Municipal Councils and if we want a change in policy, feel out prospective timber and see if there is a "me too" feeling in them or a personal opinion that will fight for what they feel is right. Get the people who are awake, alive and progressive. There is economy, false economy, and needless spending. Extremists in any class are dangerous. We must progress, and at the elections, and in the people we vote for, we show our preference in these things.

There are so many things to be considered in the selection of candidates for public office. So many well qualified and efficient individuals who will not accept nominations, and so many unqualified office-seekers always available, that we repeat, hasty choices are dangerous, unsatisfactory and quite often leave us the entire term of office of the elected, to rue our hasty actions, because of a lack of forethought and study of our conditions, and the remedy that may be found in the wise choice of public servants.

The Wheat Pool Meeting will be held in the Second Ward Chapel Monday night.

Tuesday was an almost perfect day. Bright and warm, without wind, it was certainly appreciated by everyone.

SAYS SOUTH ALBERTA GREAT-EST POTENTIAL OIL FIELD IN EMPIRE

SIR Wm. COPE, NOTED BRITISH FINANCIER, SAYS POSSIBILITIES ONLY SCRATCHED

TO REPORT TO OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES

Refuses to Discuss Reports Well Known English Company Might Enter Field

Southern Alberta offers the most wonderful possibilities I know of with in the British Empire as an oil field. Its potentialities have only been scratched as yet. I confidently look forward to its early development on a large scale, said Sir William Cope, noted British industrial financier, on his return from a visit to Turner Valley on Tuesday night.

Sir William said he had during the last two weeks made an exhaustive study of Turner Valley in particular and has visited many other parts of Southern Alberta.

I also went across into the United States to see the fields adjacent to Alberta, and from all my observations I have no hesitation in saying that Turner Valley shows the best indications of greatest oil wealth Sir William said.

Sir William said he would leave Calgary on Saturday to return to England, where he would report the result of his visit to other British capitalists interested in the development of Canadian oil fields. He refused to discuss reports that a well known English oil company might enter the field or that large mergers would be effected among the companies in the field.

For many years Sir William has been interested in the development of mineral wealth in Great Britain. He has been a director of the Albion Colliery Company. As a director of the Electrical Power Distribution Company Sir William has also been interested in many places. — Calgary Herald.

Here and There

Men who act serious all the time are considered funny.

"The devil celebrates in Hades every time a Christian preacher jumps from the pulpit into politics," remarked the old fashioned parson as he folded up the church page and turned over for his afternoon nap.

And now, by golly, I have found

GIVING THE MARKET WHAT IT LIKES

There is a growing conviction that, if Alberta cattle and lamb growers are to build up the home market for their products, they will have to under take a policy of feeding the market the year round with a better quality of fitted animals.

There is one concern in Lethbridge which is making it a rule to buy nothing but fairly well finished beef stuff, of a certain size and which they know to be tender and of the sort to appeal to the housewife. It is surprising how many housewives have told each other about the meat to be obtained at this store. Naturally the business is growing. The answer is simply that people want quality stuff. As they are educated that they can get it, they are going to buy more and more of it. The same thing could be done with lamb as is being done with beef.

But on the grower devolves a certain duty. He must see to it that there is fitted stuff available to the butcher at all seasons of the year. Next spring there will be thousands of lambs all ready for the market. For three or four weeks we will be able to buy choice lamb. Then for the rest of the year there will be little, if any, available locally. It should be possible in this great range and irrigated country to have a supply of finished lambs always ready for market. The growers will probably say that the dealer will not buy them, but once the public is educated to the fact that they are available, some enterprising shop will feature choice finished lamb from week to week and from day to day. Then watch consumption grow. Why should not this market be getting an even supply of both lambs and beef fitted for the block? In older sections of Canada farmers try to keep away from piling up peak supplies of butcher animals at certain seasons of the year. They spread these supplies out over the year as much as possible. A few farmers in the irrigation districts this year have made good money out of early lambs, sold during the summer to supply the trade. But there will be thousands of fat lambs ready for the market next spring, and it will be a buyers' market at that time. Why not spread the finishing of these lambs out over a longer period and feed the market what it needs. In this way the seller could get a better price and the consumer would be educated to buy more lamb because he would grow fond of the good lamb that would appear on his table.

Don't blame the butcher in this matter. Be ready to supply him with good stuff the year round, and he will be able to build up a better clientele who in the development of power resources will use more good lamb and beef. — Lethbridge Herald.

THE TRAVELLING CLINIC

(By Edna Kells)

After concluding the most successful season in its history with a clinic held at Grouard, the Travelling Clinic operating under the auspices of the Provincial Department of Public Health has returned to Edmonton. Since May 27 when the first clinic was held at Onoway, forty one communities have been given relief. 4413 examinations were made by Dr. R. T. Washburn, superintendent of the University hospital and head of the clinic who performed 1408 tonsil and adenoid operations, 147 minor operations, and 93 circumcisions. In this work he had the assistance of Dr. Margaret Owen. In all 1889 anaesthetics, including 163 for teeth alone, were given by Dr. Owen. The dental section was equally busy. Dr. Haycock, government dentist, and Dr. A. A. Glenister of the University of Alberta made 4273 dental examinations, put in 1159 fillings, and extracted 2775 teeth. The nursing staff, including the Misses Olive Wetherston, Agnes McLeod, E. M. Davidson, and Ann Young rendered valiant support to doctors and dentists.

It is three years since the Travelling Clinic was organized. Prior to that time a few scattered clinics had been held on request, when the district nurses found conditions obtaining which should be remedied, and for which there was no other relief. In the winter of 1926-7 the Department of Public Health received so many requests for a visit from the clinic it seemed advisable to organize it as a regular phase of the work. Of the success of the effort there is no question. At Hillspring, in Southern Alberta this year, 261 examinations were made and 122 operations performed. The editor of the Cardston News speaking of the clinic said that it was one of the finest recommendations the Government of Alberta public health service ever had. The majority of the people who attended would not otherwise have had service from any doctor, he said. This applies in many cases.

This year the clinic revisited some of the places where service was given in 1927, and found that as a result of the first visit, interest in the work had greatly increased. Children were brought in greater numbers, some for examination and treatment, others who had been operated on two years ago for a check up. Still others who had been operated upon since the first visit of the clinic were brought for a general checkup, and that the doctor might confirm the parents in the belief that they had done the right thing. This was a source of gratification since it proved that the clinic was attaining more than one of its objects.

The high light of the Travelling Clinic work is the educational side says Dr. Washburn. The doctor perhaps find in a child some minor defect of which parents were unaware and which should be corrected rather than allowed to run along until it became serious. Parents then begin to think of themselves and decide that a general check up of their own and other children's condition would be advantageous. This means a visit to the family doctor. Thus does the clinic attain one of its objects. People learn the importance of keeping in touch with their local doctor and of regular health examinations.

There are other influences which the clinic exerts, and some of these are tending to create a greater content. The conveniences of city institutions are brought to people living in isolated settlements and they feel less cut off from the world. The importance the government places on good health is interpreted to the New Canadian, and he is quick to take advantage of ways and means offered him. Privileges which they could not otherwise afford are placed at the disposal of those who are struggling to establish themselves, and this overcomes a natural feeling of resentment which they might develop.

News Notes

Everyone expected to see three feet of snow Friday morning, but the wind and snow ceased Friday morning was cold with a west wind but this quit toward noon and the weather was pretty good.

GASOLINE DISTILLED FROM COAL LIKELY TO BENEFIT ALL CANADA

Ottawa, Nov. 30th; (Special to the Recorder.)

Research officers here are told of the successful manufacture of fuel substitute for Gasoline in England, which, if it fulfills promises, is likely to prove an important factor in developing the bituminous coal resources of Canada.

This fuel is a product obtained from bituminous coal by distillation process and when used in gas generators is said to produce a gas which, in an internal combustion engine, provides the motive power as well as petrol.

Tests over a considerable period with heavy road vehicles produced by producer gas, it is claimed, have proved conclusively that gas made from synthetic charcoal is an economic fuel.

When you don't know what to say, it's a good time to keep quiet.

R. H. S. NOTES

Last Friday night a three act play entitled "Patty Makes Things Happen" was presented in the High School. A large crowd attended the play and it proved to be very successful. It was produced under the direction of Mr. Keith and the characters certainly proved their ability in acting.

Following the play, a dance was held in the gym with the kids in attendance. The evening was an entire success.

During the past week, Mr. Redd has been in Calgary on business. Rudon Dahl has been substituting for him during his absence.

Basketball practice is now in full swing. Boys and girls teams have been formed from the different grades and the students play every night. There are two boys' leagues, A and B, and one girls league.

The girls play on Wed. and Friday and the boys play on the other nights. Some very interesting games have been played already.

Plans are being made for the big event of the season the R. H. S. Christmas dance. The arrangements for the party are already made. All students will be dressed as kids, the tree will be beautifully decorated and Santa Clause will be present to distribute the presents.

THE SELLERS OF SEALS

This month there has come into the Head-Office of the Red Cross Society in Edmonton the annual shipment of Xmas Seals to be sold for the benefit of the little crippled children in hospital under the Junior Red Cross in Calgary and Edmonton.

It is a stupendous task getting rid of such a large quantity and would be well nigh impossible were it not for the splendid band of eager young salesmen and salesladies who make it their special pride and privilege to merchandise these attractive stamps.

When every Red Cross Junior member begins business as a seller of seals he puts himself in touch with a great united effort that extends from coast to coast in every province of Canada where there are Juniors working to keep their pledge of service to the sick.

Alberta Juniors have long been famous for their remarkable efforts at Christmas time, or rather earlier than that, for it is necessary that seals be sold for parcels and letters that are going on their errands of goodwill across the seas to the Mother land or to other parts of the world. It is an easy matter for reader to decide that in so far as he is able, (and surely all can do this small courtesy) he will patronize the little merchants who are earnestly trying to dispose of packages of seals.

A little imagination helps the purchaser in the pleasant thought that his seal money, though small in itself is part of a great and worthy effort made by the children of the province to assist those who are so unfortunate as to be patients in hospital, and who thanks to Junior Red Cross, are getting the chance they need to be made well and whole.

Here and There

Thirteen first prizes in apples, one first in pears and four seconds in apples were awarded to Canadian exhibitors at the Imperial Fruit Show recently held at Lincoln Hall, Birmingham, England. Eight of the first prizes were won by Nova Scotia growers, five of them by Chas. A. Bentley, of Berwick, N. S.

Four hunters from New York State saw 153 moose during the ten days of October they spent hunting in Albert County, New Brunswick, with headquarters at the camps owned and operated by Guide Charles C. Dixon, of Alma, according to a report made by R. D. Stowell, of Allen, N. Y., who headed the party to the New Brunswick Government Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel.

Contract for building a 5,500,000 bushel grain elevator at Prescott, Ontario, on the St. Lawrence has recently been let by the Canadian Government. Its cost will be about $3,100,000 and construction must be completed by August 1, 1930. It is hoped it will be ready before the Welland Canal, built at a cost of $120,000,000 is opened before next year's grain harvest in Western Canada begins.

Official report on employment in Canada states that in October of this year conditions were exceptionally satisfactory. Reports from 7927 employers with staffs totaling 1,089,583 persons, showed employment at 125, based on the average for the calendar year as 100. This is the highest on record for the time of year and compares with 118.8 for October 1, 1928.

World-wide interest is being attracted by the Canadian Pacific plans to include Honolulu as a port of call on westbound voyages of its White Empress fleet, commencing in December. Grant Hall, vice-president of the Railway, stated at Vancouver recently. Though taking these ships a little out of their course to Yokohama, it will still leave them their supremacy as making the fastest run between this continent and the Orient, he added.

Three functions of interest which are expected to attract hundreds of Canadian and American tourists will be staged in Victoria in the next three months. They are the Yuletide Music Festival in December, the Sea Song Festival in January, both held at the Empress Hotel, and the second annual mid-winter golf tournament in February which had so outstanding a success last winter.

The 300 odd inhabitants of Foremost, Alberta, claim it as one of the poorest communities of Western Canada. In the past two years it has shipped more than 3,500,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat. The town is also progressive in its educational and sports facilities.

Shipments of pilchard oil from the west coast of Vancouver Island are increasing yearly. One vessel recently took 650 tons in bulk destined for Europe, where margarine is still a staple diet. Sometimes white oil is used as a substitute for pilchard oil in the manufacture of margarine.
